CONFEDERATE MONEY.

The money of Tennessee is now available to us; except what we are unable to use it except at a loss which we cannot afford. All the deposed money received by us will be taken at only ten per cent.

THE NEWS.

The telegraph informs us that the death of Vice-President Stephens is reported at Washington. This is doubtless a Republican cause.

We are also advised that W. D. Galtier, Jr., of this city, Secretary Chase's confidential Secretary, has been appointed Collector of the Port of New Orleans, and has started for Colao to enter upon his duties. There will doubtless be a speedy movement of troops, so gun-boats have already been started from Colao. We are induced to think that Mr. Galtier will discover that a trip Southward on his mission will prove quite an unhealthy undertaking.

IMPORTANT FINANCIAL ACTION OF THE ARKANSAS CONVENTION.

The Arkansas convention, during the last session, adopted an ordinance to provide a loan for the State, where, among other things, it is provided that two million dollars in bonds, shall be issued, in sums of five dollars and upwards. To redeem these, the public lands of the State, of which there are at least seventeen millions of acres, as well as the taxes of the State, are pledged. This action secures them from any future legislation or even control by the legislature. These bonds will be receivable in payment for lands (and in part payment for taxes). The bonds will be readily receivable for taxes, and a sufficient amount of specie is, and always will be, reserved to meet the interest and redeem the coupons.

VIRGINIA MEMBERS OF THE CONFEDERATE CONVENTION.

The Virginia Convention, on the 21st instant, elected the following members of the Congress of the Confederate States, which is to meet at Richmond on the 20th of July:

SE J. A. SEDDON, and Wm. B. Preston.

Representatives: Jas. Tyler, Wm. H. M. Fulkerson, R. A. Pryor, Robert Johnson, Walter P. Jones, Robert E. Scott, Charles W. Russell, James L. Mason, Thos. S. Bowditch, Wm. C. Rives, Jas. W. Breckinridge, Walter R. Stephen, and R. M. T. Hunter.

CONVENTION AT CARROLLTON.

The friends of neutrality and peace in the Senatorial District composed of the counties of Owen, Carroll, and Trimble, will meet in Convention at Carrollton on the first Monday in July to nominate a candidate for the Senate.

They have no doubt that our friends up there, fully alive to the importance of the next Legislature, will put their best man in the field, and we know they will elect their candidate.

PROBABLY OUR NEIGHBORS OF THE CONFEDERACY ARE SOMEWHAT ANXIOUS OF THE OUTCOME OF THE CONVENTION, for although they proared a fine speech several months ago, as we have seen, they have now bought a lame duck to float it off, and the rest of the pack have hung upon the breezes, and the rest has paid and gone upon the rest of their efforts.—Louisville Journal.

The Journal is so rarely correct in its formation, that it is necessary to contradict the above statement; but, nevertheless, it requires only a paragraph, and give it an emphatic denial.

WE have no doubt that whenever GEN. MAGOFFIN OR GEN. BUCKNER has information of a character to justify them in believing that the neutrality of Kentucky has been violated by Tennessee, an investigation will be ordered, and the position of the State made good.

THE funds necessary to pay the July interest upon the Kentucky State debt have been placed in the Branch Bank of Kentucky, at Frankfort, and will, at once, be transferred to the city of New York. The amount is near one hundred thousand dollars.

THE Mayville Express pronounced Gen. Charles S. Moreland's late speech as the most forcible, conclusive and convincing argument which has yet been made in the State, upon the basis now dividing the people.

JULY 4TH.

A large Southern flag was raised in Paducah last Friday in the presence of a large concourse of people. An elegant address was then made by H. S. Bellam, Esq.

A perfect avalanche of Southern papers were received at the Louisville Post Office yesterday, most of them, however, of quite ancient date.

THE Brandon (Miss.) Republican says that one-half of the papers published in that State have been discontinued, through the want of money to carry them on.

THE people of Mobile, last Saturday, were luxuriating on green sea turtle, red fish, fresh oysters, and new sea-moss to order an election. By permission of the coffee-house keepers all refused to open and every one seemed determined to test the strength of their party.

Burnett will beat Trimble west of the town.
